

Winchester School of Chinese Culture

Weekly Newsletter

December 5, 2004

wscs.info@gmail.com

Class Updates

课堂新动向

Teacher Ma for drawing class is taking vacation to China and will be back on mid Jan. 2005. We wish her a nice trip. From this week Miss. Liu, Chong will be the substitute teacher. Thank you for your understanding and corporation.

Learn Chinese Culture through Chinese TV Program

看中文电视了解中国文化

24 hour Chinese program, multiple channels available, one time installation, free to watch. To install Satellite TV Receiver please contact Dr. Brandon Wang 617-599-2720

多频道 24 小时中文卫星电视，无月费，无年费，中文卫星电视小耳朵安装服务，请接洽王申生博士：617-599-2720.

More info at information desk.

Photos for WSCC families

WSCC teacher Mr. Perry Hu kindly offers to take professional photos for WSCC students, teachers and families. Please contact Mr. Hu at 978-475-0967 for questions or appointments.

Masters and Courage Art Exhibit

Two unique collections at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Boston Common, December 9 - 12.

The Chinese Masters (中国近代名家书画真迹展) is a selection of rare pieces from the Dai family's private collection of original, classic Chinese paintings and calligraphy from the 19th and 20th centuries. The selection includes many of China's renowned painters of the past 100 years, including Qi Baishi, Zhang Daqian and Fu Baoshi. Also included in the exhibit are rarely seen works by Emperor Dao Guang and the famous Empress Dowager of the Qing Dynasty.

The Uncompromising Courage Exhibit ('不屈不挠的精神' 艺术展) includes oil paintings, photo etchings and sculptures that express the strength of the human spirit and conscience. The artwork depicts events that are occurring today in China.

Sponsors: The Epoch Times, New Tang Dynasty TV, Sound of Hope Radio Network and The Australia Chinese Culture & Art Association.

Tickets will be available in WSCC on Dec. 5, 2004. General public $10, students and seniors $6, young children free. Also available for sale are some Master painting related products.

This Week! Fund Raising for WSCC 本週 集资活动

This Sunday Dec. 5th, BeautiLife Co. will come to WSCC to display and demonstrate their wonderful holiday especially Chinese New Year celebration related products. This event is open to public. Please feel free to bring your friends with you. Order forms are available on information desk.